Everly is a 7-year-old second grader who is loving, silly, and friendly. She lives in Irvine with her parents, Bianka and Joshua, and her big sister, Penelope. Her family says Everly lights up any room she rolls into, and she brings joy wherever she goes.

Everly was born with spina bifida and hydrocephalus. On her first day of life, she had surgery on her spine, and on her third day she had brain surgery to place a shunt to control her hydrocephalus. She has faced more medical challenges in her young life than many adults face in a lifetime. She recently had her 8th surgery and is recovering at home and working her way back to tennis.

She loves tennis. After playing for the first time, Everly left, telling everyone, “I’m a tennis player now.” The sport has given her confidence, identity, and community. She plays wheelchair tennis every Saturday, and it has become a family affair, with Mom, Dad, and Penelope cheering her on. Every week she gets a little better at hitting the ball over the net.

Some of Everly’s favorite things are being at school with her friends and playing with her big sister. She is very social and makes friends wherever she goes. She and Penelope are always inventing new games, and Penelope is always adapting whatever they play outside so they can play together.

Everly’s family also loves to explore the world together. This year they traveled through France, from the Alps in Chamonix to the beach in Cabourg to the streets of Paris, where Everly tried her very first croissant. She is also a proud member of the hydrocephalus community and walked with family and friends at this year’s Hydrocephalus Walk, where she felt the love of everyone who showed up for her.

Looking ahead, Everly hopes to keep playing tennis and making friends. She is hoping for a CAF grant for a sports wheelchair that fits her body perfectly, so she can play at her best. Her family is deeply grateful for the people who support her, and they hope to inspire other children and families facing similar challenges to keep going with hope and joy.

"It's a joy for us coaches and volunteers to have Everly on the courts. She is always laughing and enjoying herself, while at the same time being very focused. Watch the short video below to see how hard Everly works for every ball."
